

THE 17TH ANNUAL WASHINGTON INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION CONFERENCE

FEBRUARY 21-22, 2019

What sets the Washington International Education Conference apart?

During the two-day conference you will hear from embassy representatives from across the globe and key Federal government partners including the U.S. Department of Commerce, the U.S. Department of State and the U.S. Department of Homeland Security. In addition, you will learn from highly regarded peers and research institutions that are committed to the study and implementation of international student recruiting and admissions.

You will leave the Washington International Education Conference with unprecedented information on trends and issues, while also having the data and practical tips to more effectively manage your international student program.

Conference attendees include education and cultural attaches, university, college, independent school and language program administrators who oversee international university student recruiting and admissions and those who serve as liaisons to these students once on campus, Federal government representatives, and representatives from NGOs.

SESSION TOPICS

- Diversification of student sources in a competitive environment
- Everything you need to know about changes in visa issuance and regulations
- New programs bringing sponsored students to the United States
- Growth markets and how best to access those markets
- Insider strategies to the China and India markets
- And much much more!
